HEATCRAFT SUPPORTS INDUSTRY CONFERENCE

Heatcraft Australia is pleased to announce our involvement as Supporting Sponsor in the AIRAH 2017 Refrigeration Conference.

AIRAH has revealed the conference will look at the current state of the industry, how it may respond to the future challenges initiated by COP 21 and the global HFC phasedown, and how this will impact upon educators, legislators, regulators, end users, engineers, consultants and technicians. The conference will also include sessions reviewing the latest technologies on offer.

To coincide with the Refrigeration Conference, Heatcraft Australia will host a separate Heatcraft dinner for select conference delegates and Heatcraft customers. By invitation only, the dinner will take the opportunity to detail how Heatcraft Australia is responding to the increasing demand for natural refrigerants and options available to future proof against future legislative requirements.

The company will also share their learnings and experiences in the design and manufacture of next generation CO₂ systems currently being distributed to the market.

In 2016, Heatcraft Australia shared an AIRAH Award win with Refrigeration Innovations Pty Ltd. In the category of Best HVAC&R Retrofit or Upgrade, Heatcraft Australia worked together with Refrigeration Innovations to supply IGA Boccaccio Cellars, VIC a customised refrigeration system, which included the hybrid CO₂ parallel rack system.

The AIRAH Refrigeration conference is being held on 27-28th March at Etihad Stadium, Melbourne. Those wishing to register should visit www.airah.org.au. Heatcraft customers invited to attend the Heatcraft dinner will be contacted by their Heatcraft Account Manager.
